Foreign News Affects Securities and Washington Railway Establishes Bears Reduce Prices.

New York, Sept. 12—Bears, seeking soft spots in today's market discovered what they sought in many places throughout the early hours. Fair support was given to steel and copper share, during the forenoon, but that yield to the pressure at midday and in the afternoon the bears found almost the entire list weak. They took advantage of the situation and hammered prices until at the close, nearly every issue had registered a drop of from 1 to 5 points.

This was rather unexpected, as it had been rumored further large purchases were to be confined to raw materials. Crucible steel and Bethlehem became active as a result of the munitions news, but they lost 11-8 and 12-8 respectively, nevertheless, in the disavis trading. 13-8 respectively, nevertheless, in the

New York, New Haven and Haartford was among the ew issues showing a gain at the closing. It advanced 7-8 of a point. General Motors gained a like amount. Call money varied from 5 to 3 per

Another Reading Course For U. S. Citizen Soldiers

(Issued by the War Department to The Washington Herald.) Editor's Note.—This course of thirty daily lessons is offered to the men selected for service in the National Army as a practical help in getting started in the right way. It is informal in tone and does not attempt to give binding rules and directions. These are contained in the various manuals and regulations of the United States Army, to which this Course is merely introductory. The lessons will appear daily in The Herald.

Lesson No. 25-Discipline and Respect for the Colors.

"All persons in the military service are required to obey strictly and to execute promptly the lawful orders of their superiors." (Army Regulations, par. 1.)

Discipline is not merely an obligation in mposed upon you; it is a protection to you. Your superiors, from the commanding general down, are just as much bound to respect the regulations of the army as you are; this includes respect for the rights of every soldier.

"Military authority will be exercised with firmness, kindness, and justice. While maintaining discipline and the thorough and prompt performance of military duty, all officers in dealing with enlisted men, will bear in mind the absolute necessity of so treating them as to preserve their self-respect. Officers will keep in as close touch as possible with the men under their command and will strive to build up such relations of confidence and sympathy as will insure the free approach of their men to them for counsel and assistance. This relationship may be gained and maintained without relaxation of the bonds of discipline and with great benefit to the service as a whole." (Army Regulations, pars. 2 and 3.)

Rule of Army Life.

Discipline is the necessary rule of the colors are extried by an office of the same rules of respect are observed by men not in formation when the uncased colors are carried which is spect. Another flag is carried which is the symbol of tite regiment and is known as the "regimental/ colors." It is protected with a devotion second only to that felt for the national flag itself.

Thousands of brave men in previous wars have given up their lives to save the colors of their country and their regiment from the enemy's hands. As gust itself.

Rule of Army Life.

Discipline is the necessary rule of life in the army and is not in the least inconsistent with your own pride and self-respect as a citizen and a sol-

The person whom you obey may be an officer, a noncommissioned officer, or even another private who has been given authority to command you. Whether you like him or not "you must respect his position and authority, and reflect honor and credit on yourself and your profession by yielding to all superiors that complete and unhesitating obedience which is the pleasure as well as the duty of every true soldier." Manual of Noncommissioned Officers and Privates, page 2.)

Argument has no place in the army. Even favorable comment on the control of the united States. Whether a civilian or a soldier, should give expression of his loyalty and devotion to his country by showing proper marks of respect for the colors and for the national anthem. When in civilian clothes, wearing a hat or cap, the correct thing to do is to remove.
